Carrier Oil

Carrier oils are natural fatty acid oils that act as a means to carry essential oils and transmit their wellness benefits to the skin. They are thick oils derived from the nuts, seeds, or kernels of the diverse plants by the cold-press method.

Most essential oils are diluted with carrier oils for safe usage and better application. Natures Natural India offers an extensive range of diverse carrier oils. They not only moisturize the skin but also help reach the aroma and health benefits of essential oils.

Our top-selling carrier oils include Argan, Babchi, Castor, Coconut, Cucumber Seed, Evening Primrose, Guava Seeds, Hemp Seeds, Jojoba, and many other oils.

Attars

Indian perfume oils, known as attars, are perfect combinations of base aroma notes of sandalwood oil and floral/herbal/clay-like/deer-musk top notes. Their making process is prolonged, unique and elaborate. It leads to premium perfume oils whose one drop gives lasting fragrance.

The major feature of attars is that they are highly concentrated and get better with age in aroma. The attars find uses in high end perfumes, food & beverages, and cosmetics.

Other Natural Beauty Products

Natural beauty products need some more ingredients besides natural butter, essential oils or carrier oils. Three of the widely used ingredients are aloe vera gel, beeswax, and vegetable glycerin.

Aloe vera gel has an amazing ability to soothe scalp and skin. It is derived from the inside of aloe vera stems and available in semi liquid form.

Beeswax is a natural waxy product derived from the honeycomb of honeybees. It is widely used in cosmetics and candles.

Vegetable glycerin is a sweet liquid derived from vegetable fats, used in cosmetics, food items and pharmaceuticals.
